About Kristen Clark:

Founder of His Witness Ministries

Co-Founder of New Beginnings Marriage Ministry

Public Speaker

Published Author

With the help of her husband, Lawrence, Kristen runs His Witness Ministries (encouraging the Christian community in using art as an expression of faith), and New Beginnings Marriage Ministry (encouraging married couples in living joyfully and united as one). Her articles on art and marriage have appeared in various online forums, while her inspirational short stories have been published by Chicken Soup for the Soul. Additionally, her small group curriculums have been used in various local churches. She believes that those who hear and see may come to believe and be saved.

Kristen has over ten years experience speaking publicly, leading worship, facilitating small group discussions and offering pastoral care for the local Alpha program and in women's ministry. Additionally, she is an active member and strong leader within her church and community. When she is not making herself available for public and personal ministry, she spends her time caring for her loving husband and family, and maintaining a closer walk with Jesus.

Testimonials:

"Just wanted to let you know I thought this CD (His Side of the Looking Glass: Seeing Yourself as God Sees You) was incredible. It felt as though (you) had a direct line to God when (you) wrote this work. I would highly recommend it. Thanks." Listening from California

"A million Thank You's for your time and service. Our MOPS group was very lucky to have you speak. We are all looking forward to working on our marriage journals.... Thank you again for an amazing day." Kate Mejia, Houston MOPS coordinator

"Just wanted to tell you I listened to your CD (Living Joyfully and United as One). I especially liked the gratitude list to change one's perspective, and also liked the date-night tips. The part about not repeating the same things to be grateful for in one week seems like a challenge after awhile, and I would like to try it...I do try to start my prayers off with things I'm thankful for, but they do seem to be the same things over and over again... Also, I had no idea that remarriage was so challenging, but after listening to the CD and the statistics, it makes a lot of sense. Almost all of my friends are either divorced, starting second marriages or starting to date/enter into more serious relationships, so I think this information is crucial. Great work." Gina Lucas, California

"I thought your (perspective) on marriage was so relevant. I printed a copy of your reminders to keep on my refrigerator so I could refer to it often. Thank you." Reading from Houston

"Kristen...loved your article Beyond Reproach. I never thought about how important 'appearances' are in protecting marriage. Thank you". Listening from California

Statement of Faith:

I affirm:

- The Holy Scriptures of the Old and New Testaments as the inspired Word of God.
- The historic actuality of the virgin birth of our Lord Jesus Christ and His divine/human nature.
- The historic actuality of the miracles of our Lord Jesus Christ as conveyed to us in the pages of Holy Scripture.
- The efficacy of the substitutionary atonement of our Lord Jesus Christ for our sins.
- The historic actuality of the bodily resurrection of our Lord Jesus Christ and His coming again.

Mission:

To provide Christian encouragement for women and help them grow in their understanding of God through a deeper relationship with Jesus Christ.
